A vertical strip of a book's endpaper, showing a repeating geometric pattern of triangles and circles. The pattern is printed in a dark ink on a light-colored, textured paper. The triangles are oriented in different directions, and the circles are interspersed among them. The strip is cut from a larger sheet, as evidenced by the visible fold lines and the way the pattern is partially cut off at the top and bottom.

Quest' è di Roma un nobil cittadino
 Il qual ne alcun si pensi ch'io lo inganni
 Nacque con questa barba, e in questi panni
 E fu sì grande in sin ch'era piccino
 Non mangiò mai ne beuue; et è vicino
 A forse più di mille et dugento anni
 Et non di meno i disagi et li affanni
 Tutti del mondo non stima un quattrino
 S'empie, et si può dir nudo, al acqua, al sole,
 Al uento, e in terra stassi senza tetto
 Ne un dente pur, non ch'altro mai li duole,
 D'i natura queto, graue, ischietto
 Candido, di pochissime parole,
 Et a molte facende amo e perfetto
 Anchor che per disceuo
 Già lo Scorpiasin certi traditori
 Come ueder, et ha nome. MARFORI

Non conoscete la vera effigie mia
Io son Pasquin col mal che non uida

Io non son come paio un Babuino stroppiato, senza piedi, et senza mani,
Ne men con gli altri membri sconci et strani,

Ma son quel famosissimo Pasquino
Che tremar faccio i Signor piu soprani,
Et stupir forastieri, et Paesani
Quando compongo in uolgare, o in latino.
La mia persona e fatta in tal maniera
Per i colpi ch' hor questo hor quel m' accocca
Perch' io dico i lor falli a buona cera.
Ma in fin ch' io ho l'usata lingua in bocca
Non ne so stima, anchor che l' resto pera
E sempre cantaro, Z ara a chi tocca
Che se la gente sciocca
Non si vuol rimaner, de i falli suoi
Chi terra me che no l'ridica poi.

ANTONIO LAFRERI

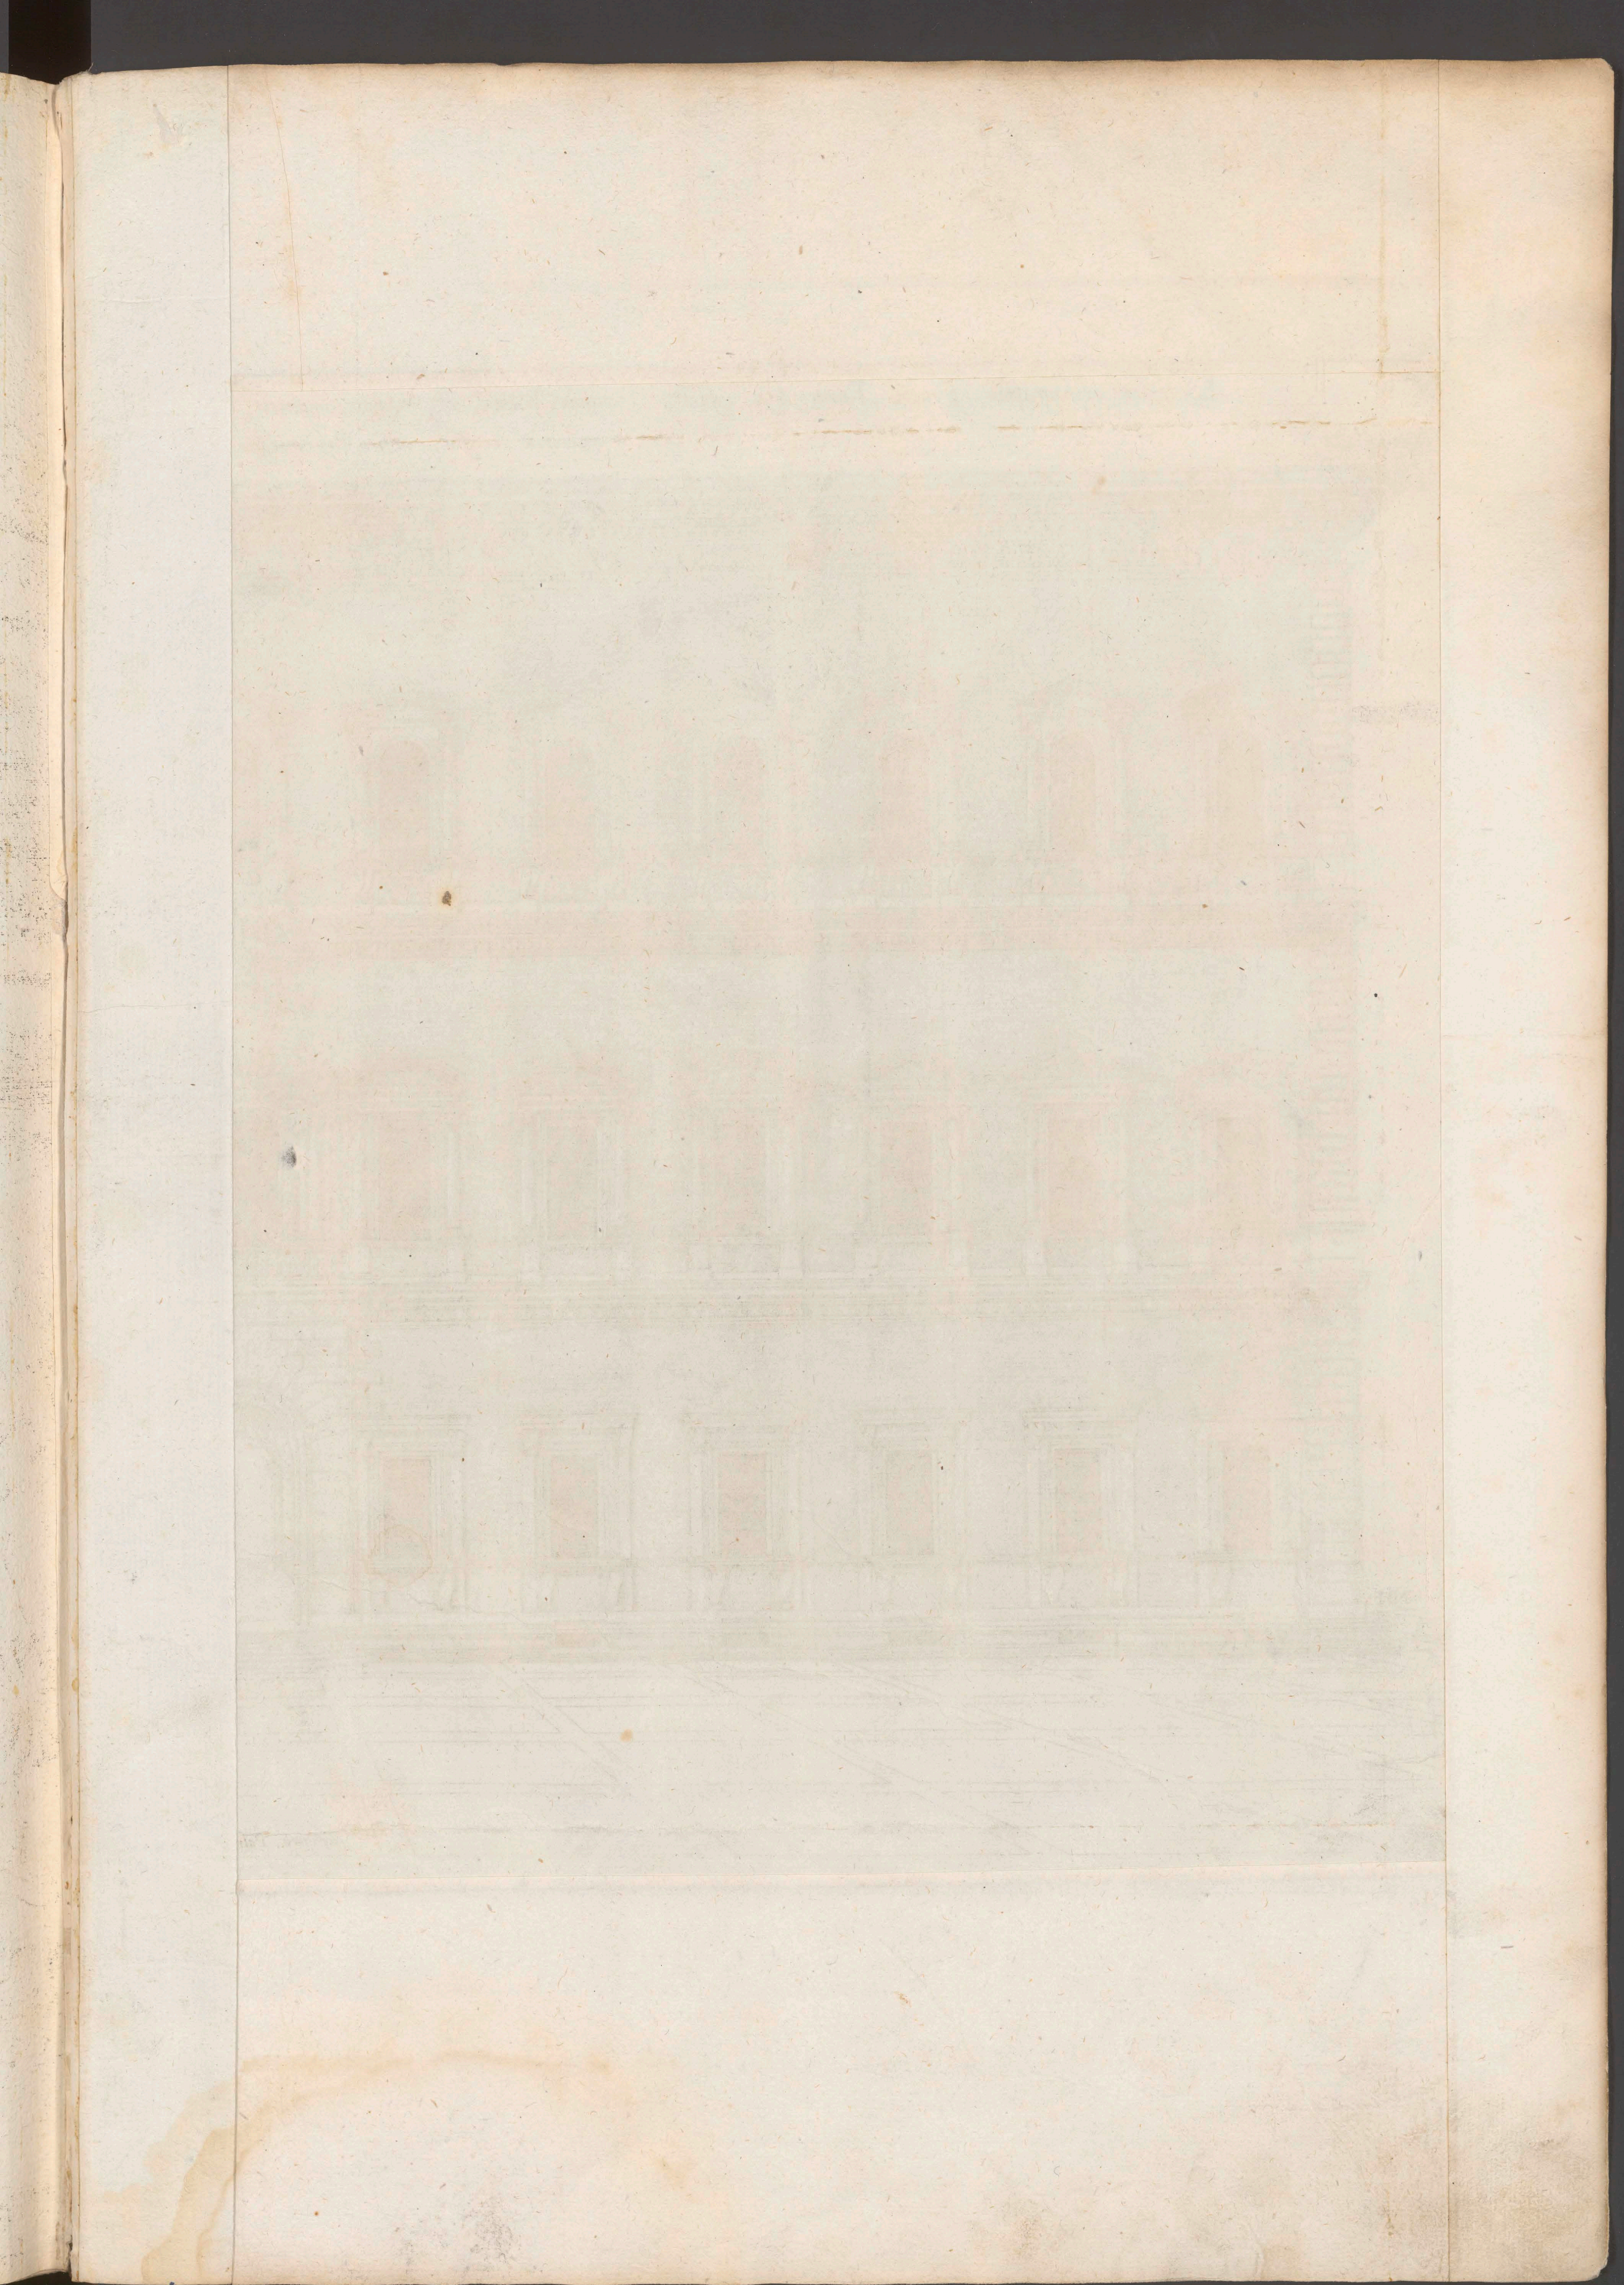

Di grand' admiratione è il sito della Città di Tivoli doue si uede come il corso del fiume Aniene furiosamente cascando dalli monti nel Lago, ha fatto dentro le uene delle pietre concauità et grotte stupende, quale per successioni di tempo, et per sua natura ha generato tartari di diuerse forme, tal che in molti luoghi si uedono congelati, che pareno figure humane, et tal uolta animali, frumi, et infinite altre cose stupende. Vedendo la bo. me. dell' Ill.^{mo} S.^{re} Card. di Ferrara le cose sudette, deliberò, e messe ad effetto di dar altro corso a parte di quell' acqua, ordinò un bellissimo palazzo accompagnato con un uaghiissimo giardino, nelli quali ha appropriato il corso di dett' acqua, che nel palazzo, et giardino fa infinite belle font, ornando ancora detto giardino di borchei, laberinti, luoghi de simplici, et di molti altre cose, quali non si possono dimostrar in disegno, perciò che chi le uolse discriuere bisognaria far un gran uolume: Ma a regitlando la mia perfettione l' ho stampato et annotato per numero le cose più notabili, che ui sono, acciò che tutti quegli che di simil cose si dilettano, possino godere una tanta diletteuole opera
